

SØK2007 – Development Economics – spring 2019

Candidate No. 10062

A very clear and very thorough exam paper. The key models in development economics were carefully set out and worked through. The demonstrated understanding of the importance of different predictions across alternative models was particularly impressive. Well done, an excellent paper!